Experience

Since last summer I am working as hostess and promoter. So far, I have had a lot of fun participating in events and getting involved in the teams. During my school years, I was able to help out with some school affairs and to help with planning. For some of my jobs here on Instaff I also had some experience in the service. I worked in the retail business for 3 years and among other things it was my job to place orders and deliveries. Now in my studies I started to work in film production. There my tasks are either to help on set and to write down or to go through the footage in the studio and mark the most important places. In this work, communication is very important, so that mistakes are avoided and you can deal with the material on time. These projects usually only take 3-4 months and the next one takes a few weeks. During this time I like to go back to work afterwards at Instaff.
