Experience

Dear Sirs and Madames, As a student of Business Informatics at HTW-Berlin, I have been working for InStaff for several clients for more than a year. During this time I was busy in different areas. Among other service, promoter and warehouse assistant. In addition, I am employed full time during the semester break, as in production at Daimler. All these diverse jobs not only help me to finance my studies, but also to collect and continue to gain experience. My multicultural background enables me to use my German, English and French language skills in spoken and written. I like working in a team and act purposefully, organized and responsible. With my experience and social skills I am therefore well prepared for "you". Yours sincerely Paulette Fokou
