Experience

In only 22 years I have had many opportunities to develop many useful skills, that could be of use for your business too. I have worked over one year in production for Creavac Dresden GmbH and REWE Antje Eismann oHG which taught me a great hands-on mentality. In Jena where I successfully studied biology I had the opportunity to work with three unique science departments. Despite these great experiences I decided against the path of science and for a future career in IT. Just recently I have made progress in webdevelopment (HTML, CSS, JavaScript, SQL, Python and CMS) and mobile development (iOS Apps). First minimalist projects can be seen on "www.scio-subtilis.de". If you are interested in IT-development and internet security you will have a great time and a good addition to your team. If you just need a motivated and positive thinking men who gets the job done you will have
