Experience

I am a student of the program "Mechanical and Energy engineering " at the University of applied sciences of Bremen and besides my studies I am looking for new social challenges. During my studies, I served and waited tables in restaurants for a year. As a server, I have learned to offer guests a traditional and loving atmosphere. In addition, I also worked in the International Office of my university as a student assistant in the activities, such as translations or redaction of emails. With me you will get a flexible, dedicated and multilingual employee who always keeps a smile in complicated situations. Thanks to my early experience in sports, teamwork, polite manners, reliability and a customer- and service-oriented working method are self-evident for me. I am particularly pleased about an answer from you. Yours sincerely Jose Rojas Annicchiarico
