Experience

During and after High School, I worked as a waitress in a Restaurant and did some temporary help in many different companies. After graduating High School, went to Australia for 6 months to do Work&Travel by myself. After that I was employed at the Google Office in Hamburg to work in their restaurants as a waitress. In 2018/2019 I went to Ghana for a year do to a social year abroad, where I lived and worked with Orphans and taught in a school. Now, I am studying social anthropology at the University of Hamburg as a major and my minor is Languages and Cultures of South East Asia, which lead me to learn Indonesian. Many journeys abroad in various countries have taught me to be very independent, self-confident and trust-worthy.
