Experience

I'm working in my own boutique CROCO in Hanover and I organise and host events to nurture my customer relationships. I'm well informed concerning customer advisory, PR and marketing strategies. As a CEO I'm responsible for the staff, the coordination and any other business-orientated tasks. I am an extroverted and open-minded person who always faces everybody with a big smile, a lot of charm and sincere interest! After I got my high school diploma, I spent several months in London to perfect my English as well as to live independently and meet new people. Furthermore, I have good knowledge of French and I'm currently learning Russian. I have always been interested in sales psychology and will soon start studying business psychology to work in public relations management. :)
