Experience

I am Akofor Chefor Ndah, currently doing a Master's degree in Data Science and Business administration at the Europa Universität Frankfurt (Oder) Brandenburg. I am very fluent in a couple of Languages, with English being my first language. Over the past couple of years, I have worked both as a production helper, sales person and also a Data analyst working student for one of the largest automotive industries on Germany. I am looking forward to get work with wonderful individuals in every field of life
